Achieving Competency in English
Second Edition
A Life Skills Approach

Planaria J. Price
Evans Community Adult School

Illustrations by Xavier Urquieta

University of Michigan Press
Ann Arbor
This book is dedicated to the thousands of wonderful Evans Community Adult School students I have known. Coming from more than 96 countries, they shared their stories, their sorrows, their successes, and their dreams with me. They have made my life richer by far. By reading their questions and listening to their stories, this book will, I hope, make your lives richer as well.
Acknowledgments

This book owes its rebirth to Kelly Sippell, visionary and editor extraordinaire; she always gives me the freedom I need to stay out of the box.

Thank you, again, to Xavier Urquieta for his incredibly beautiful and sensitive illustrations, and always, to Murray, for his patience and understanding and the delicious dinners he brought me.

Grateful acknowledgment is given to the following authors, publishers, and individuals for permission to reprint these materials.

Campbell’s Soup Company for image of “Cream of Potato Soup” label.

Energy Brands, Inc., for permission to reproduce label from GLACÉAU vitamin water, essential orange, copyright ©2003.

The Graphics Group, Inc., for image of Parking Citation. Reprinted by permission.

Scantron Corp. for Scantron Form No. 882-E, by Scantron Corporation. Copyright ©2005 by Scantron Corporation. Used by permission of Scantron Corporation. All rights reserved. No reproduction may be made without the prior written permission of the copyright owner.

Trader Joe’s for image of Trader Joe’s Toasted Oat Cereal package.

The University of Michigan HRAA for employment application and University of Michigan Department of Public Safety for Parking Citation. Reprinted by permission.

Washtenaw Community College for College Application form and map of College Campus.

Every effort has been made to contact the copyright holders for permission to reprint borrowed material. We regret any oversights that may have occurred and will rectify them in future printings of this book.
Contents

Introduction xi

CHAPTER 1 Common Courtesy in America  2
SECTION 1: SPOKEN AND UNSPOKEN LANGUAGE  4
1.1: Polite or Rude?  4
1.2: Body Language  6
SECTION 2: POLITE, ACCEPTABLE, OR RUDE?  12
SECTION 3: CULTURES IN CONTRAST  18
3.1: Asking for Information  18
3.2: Understanding Euphemisms  18
3.3: Conversation Activity  19
SECTION 4: BITS AND PIECES  20
4.1: Observing Body Language  20
4.2: Humor  23
SECTION 5: UNDERSTANDING STATISTICS: THE PIE CHART  25
SECTION 6: EXPANSION ACTIVITIES FOR CHAPTER 1  26

CHAPTER 2 Meeting People  28
SECTION 1: GETTING TOGETHER  30
1.1: Making New Friends  30
1.2: Formal and Informal Get-Togethers  32
SECTION 2: POLITE BEHAVIOR IN FORMAL SITUATIONS  38
SECTION 3: INFORMAL GET-TOGETHERS 42
3.1: Extending Invitations 42
3.2: Introducing Yourself 43
3.3: Starting a Conversation 44
3.4: Expressing Thanks Informally 45

SECTION 4: BITS AND PIECES 46
4.1: Formal Written Invitations 46
4.2: Formal Thank-You Notes 48
4.3: Writing an Invitation and Thank-You Note 49
4.4: Humor 50
4.5: Advice from Zenobia 51

SECTION 5: UNDERSTANDING STATISTICS: THE BAR CHART 52

SECTION 6: EXPANSION ACTIVITIES FOR CHAPTER 2 53

CHAPTER 3 Emergencies 54

SECTION 1: GETTING HELP 56
1.1: What to Do in an Emergency 56
1.2: Emergency Services 58

SECTION 2: EMERGENCY SITUATIONS 64

SECTION 3: A MATTER OF LIFE OR DEATH 68
3.1: Calling for Help 68

SECTION 4: BITS AND PIECES 70
4.1: Preventing Emergencies 70
4.2: Practicing Home Safety 71
4.3: Knowing Your Environment 72
4.4: Personal Safety Discussion Questions 73

SECTION 5: UNDERSTANDING STATISTICS: THE BAR CHART 74

SECTION 6: EXPANSION ACTIVITIES FOR CHAPTER 3 75

CHAPTER 4 Community Services 76

SECTION 1: TRANSPORTATION AND PUBLIC AGENCIES 78
1.1: Transportation 78
1.2: Public Agencies 80
CHAPTER 8  In Sickness and in Health  184

SECTION 1: STAYING HEALTHY  186
1.1: Finding a Doctor  186
1.2: Illnesses  188

SECTION 2: SEEKING MEDICAL ADVICE  194

SECTION 3: SEEING THE DOCTOR  199
3.1: Making an Appointment  199
3.2: Talking to the Doctor  200

SECTION 4: BITS AND PIECES  202
4.1: AIDS  202
4.2: Immunizations  203
4.3: Your Personal Check-List of Immunizations  204
4.4: Understanding Hospital Admittance Forms  205
4.5: Filling Out Health Insurance Forms  206
4.6: Understanding Lables on Medicine  207

SECTION 5: UNDERSTANDING STATISTICS:
THE BAR CHART  208

SECTION 6: EXPANSION ACTIVITIES FOR CHAPTER 8  209

CHAPTER 9  Food and Nutrition  210

SECTION 1: FOOD AND HEALTH  212
1.1: Eating at Home  212
1.2: Eating Out  215

SECTION 2: FOOD AND RESTAURANTS  220

SECTION 3: ENJOY YOUR MEAL!  225
3.1: Ordering in a Restaurant  225
3.2: Complaining about Your Order  227
3.3: Conversation Activities  228
Introduction

The Why of This Book

Achieving Competency in English: A Life Skills Approach began more than 30 years ago as I, a new teacher, saw my adult foreign students struggle with the mysteries and complications of how to live in America while they learned English. It seemed obvious that those two problems could be addressed simultaneously. My students asked me questions about their daily lives and shared their embarrassments and problems, and I wrote vocabulary and grammar lessons that would answer those questions.

Foreign students are still struggling with the exact same issues today. Now those issues have a name: SCANS and CASAS Life Skill Competencies.

Thus, the second edition of Achieving Competency in English: A Life Skills Approach—a book written to give the intermediate adult student competency in both English and life skills. (The first edition was titled Competency in English: A Life Skill Approach.)

The How of This Book

Learning about American culture while learning English is a stimulating and necessary experience for students. The concepts and vocabulary in this book will be constantly reinforced when students leave their classrooms and go out into the “real world.”

The book has ten chapters. Chapters address the most basic competencies needed for students to function in an English-speaking community, such as:

- the American culture of meeting people
- basic information on social interaction
- the practical needs of how to use a bank, the post office, etc.
- how to get a job
- what to say to a doctor

Each chapter has a Reading Readiness opener and six parts. The opener consists of two pages with pictures to introduce the theme of the chapter and the key vocabulary. The pictures lend themselves to informal, nonthreatening class discussions, in which the teacher can elicit comments from the students while introducing some new vocabulary.
Section 1 contains two reading passages in which new and crucial vocabulary appears in a cultural context relevant to the adult foreign student. The students learn the vocabulary, sometimes from the context. The choice of vocabulary may be of interest: The words taught are a result of more than 15 years of classroom testing of this material with my adult students. I include those words my students routinely struggled with or did not know before using this book. Of course, you may find different words cause trouble for your students, and you may decide to teach some other words in the reading. The passages can be used for listening comprehension and/or for reading. After each passage is read (silently by the students or aloud by the teacher), several true/false questions test the students’ listening comprehension and generate discussion. A vocabulary reinforcement exercise follows, providing additional contexts/examples of the vocabulary items as they reinforce the theme of the chapter. Thought-provoking cross-cultural discussion questions are presented that can be done as a class, in groups, in pairs, or even assigned for written work. Section 1 ends with a crossword puzzle that also reinforces the newly learned vocabulary.

Section 2 of each chapter reinforces the vocabulary and cultural concepts of Section 1 by describing real-life experiences that are directly relevant to the ESL student of today. Again, these situations can be discussed with the whole class, in groups, or in pairs. If the students are confident enough in their English, they can even organize panel discussions or debates to be presented to the whole class.

Section 3 presents conversation practice using real-life expressions that the students can use and will hear in their daily experiences, on television, and in the movies. There are many role-playing activities. Again, these can be done as a class, in groups, or in pairs.

Section 4 contains realia and writing components that emphasize practical tasks such as filling out forms or applications, writing checks, etc. It may also contain cartoons, short newspaper articles, and other features, depending on the topic of the chapter.

Section 5 is designed to help the student learn how to read the graphs, charts, and maps that are so very prevalent in the daily life of America, and a necessary skill for those students who will pursue academic courses and professions. The statistics found in the charts will surprise and raise the consciousness of the students as to the dangers of tobacco smoke, the rising consumption of sugar, and the like.

Section 6 includes suggestions for the continuation of independent learning outside the classroom. This reinforces the concepts in the chapter and gives the student a sense of ownership of his or her English and the idea that learning English is the same as living English—it must be practiced in the real world in real situations. Many names, addresses, and websites of community and national resources are provided.

I have tried to make this a non-threatening, realistic conversational book that is stimulating, helpful, and real—and fun for both the teacher and the student. It is my hope that both teachers and students enjoy learning from this book as much as my students and I enjoyed creating it.