Acknowledgments

This volume derives from a conference on State, Sexuality, and Reproduction in Asia and the Pacific, which was organized by the Gender Relations Centre at the Australian National University. We thank the Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies for the support of this conference and the wider project. We thank the Australian Research Council for providing the research fellowship that has permitted Dr. Ram to present an early version of her chapter at Jawaharlal Nehru University in New Delhi, do fieldwork in Tamil Nadu, collect research material, and edit this volume. We also want to thank the authors of the several chapters in this volume for responding so positively to the suggestions for revision by ourselves as editors and the anonymous referees.

Material from a couple of the chapters has previously appeared, though in slightly different form. The chapter by Ritu Menon and Kamla Bhasin (chap. 2) draws on material from their book Borders and Boundaries: Women in India's Partition (1998), and we thank the publisher, Kali for Women, for permission to republish. Andrea Whittaker's contribution (chap. 7) draws on her essay "Women's Desires and Burden: Family Planning in Northeast Thailand" in Asian Studies Review 22 (2): 137–55. Again, grateful acknowledgment is made to Blackwell Publishers Limited for permission to republish.

We must also acknowledge the permissions for many of the photographic images that were not taken by our authors. We thank Deborah Hill for her photographs of family planning posters in Ujung Pandang, Sulawesi, Indonesia (figs. 1–2, chap. 1). We also thank the Mitchell Library, State Library of New South Wales, Sydney, for permission to reproduce three historical photographs from Fiji (figs. 15–17, chap. 9). We must also thank Bob Cooper of Coombs Photography for his superb photograph of the sculpture from Pentecost (fig. 18, chap. 9) and Kay Dancey of Coombs Cartography for her excellent maps. In addition, we gratefully acknowledge permission to reproduce stills from the documentary Something like a War, produced by D&N (India) in association with Equal Media (London) for Channel 4.

We would both like to thank Annegret Schemberg for her meticulous attention to detail in copyediting and proofreading and Ria van de Zandt for her excellent word processing and formatting skills. They are always a formidable team. Finally, we thank each other for the creative work and commitment it has taken to edit another volume together. We trust readers will like it as much as we do.
