

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction
Imagining Adoption Marianne Novy	1
Adoption and the “Improvement of the Estate” in Trollope and Craik Tess O’Toole	17
Adoption in Silas Marner and Daniel Deronda Marianne Novy	35
Outlaws, Outcasts, and Orphans The Historical Imagination and Anne of Green Gables Beverly Crockett	57
Redefining “Real” Motherhood Representations of Adoptive Mothers, 1900–1950 Julie Berebitsky	83
From Charlotte to the Outposts of Empire Troping Adoption Beverly Lyon Clark	97
The Immaculate Deception Adoption in Albee’s Plays Garry Leonard	111
“I Am Your Mother; She Was a Carrying Case” Adoption, Class, and Sexual Orientation in Jeanette Winterson’s Oranges Are Not the Only Fruit Margot Gayle Backus	133
A Junction of Amends Sandra McPherson’s Poetics of Adoption Jan VanStavern	151
Adoption, Identity, and Voice Jackie Kay’s Inventions of Self Nancy K. Gish	171

Genealogy Revised in Secrets and Lies Paris De Soto	193
Natural Bonds, Legal Boundaries Modes of Persuasion in Adoption Rhetoric Judith Modell	207
“File It under “L” for Love Child” Adoptive Policies and Practices in the Erdrich Tetralogy Jill R. Deans	231
Adoption as National Fantasy in Barbara Kingsolver’s Pigs in Heaven and Margaret Laurence’s The Diviners Kristina Fagan	251
Should Whites Adopt African American Children? One Family’s Phenomenological Response Martha Satz	267
Incorporating the Transnational Adoptee Claudia Castañeda	277
Select Bibliography	301
Contributors	305
Index	309