Contents

Introduction 1

1. Polyphemus: The Blinding of a Cyclops 18

2. Phaeacia: The Impossible Choice of Subjectivity 36

3. In the Beginning Was Proteus 50

4. From Stones to Statehood: Sublime Objects in the Odyssey 72

5. Metis and Monstrosity: Odysseus’ and Demodocus’ Battle of Wits 89

6. The Limits of Heroism 107

7. The Odyssey from the Perspective of Its Victims 133

8. What Does a Phaeacian Woman Want? 181

9. Penelope as Parthenos 206

Notes 237
References 269
Index 275