

Contents

1. Digging (Up) the Scene: An Introduction	1
2. Setting the Scene: A Look at the Fifties	16
Part One: Emerging Venues, Emerging Playwrights, 1960–66
3. Caffè Cino: The Birth of a Movement	39
4. Judson Poets' Theater: Verse Plays and Vaudeville Skits	61
5. La Mama ETC: Hurrah for the Playwright	83
6. Theatre Genesis: Urban Prophecy	105
7. In One Act: On the Aesthetics of Off-Off-Broadway Playwriting	124
Part Two: Present Collaborations, 1963–68
8. The Judson "Musical": Sublimely Ridiculous?	147
9. The Open Theatre: Transformations	169
10. La Mama Troupe: The Kernel of Craziness	192
11. The Play-House of the Ridiculous: Beyond Absurdity	215
12. Other Kinds of Cruelty: Ritual, Participation, and the Plague	237
Part Three: Changing Times, 1966–73
13. Going Overground: Changing Profiles in the Later 1960s	259
14. Death and Disaster: Leaving the Caffè Cino	279
15. The Absence of Peace: Changing Politics, Changing Communities	301
16. Going Solo: Auteurs, Poseurs, and La Mama	322
17. Signals through the Flames: The Afterlife of a Movement	344
Appendix A: Chronology of Notable Events and Productions	367
Appendix B: Interviewees, Correspondents, and Discussants	375
Bibliography	377
Index	389