

SUBJECT INDEX

- Ability, 23–24, 27–28, 155, 190, 199, 205
- Academic Word List (AWL), 161–163
- ACTIVE approach, 10, 117–143
- Acquisition approach, 1–2, 8
- Anticipation guide, 10, 121–122
- Automaticity: fluency, and, 11, 201; guessing unfamiliar vocabulary and, 134; in lower-level processing, 15, 17, 74; shadow reading and, 130
- Assessment (see Evaluate progress)
- Background or prior knowledge, 69–74; activating, 118–121, 201; and cognitive processing, 66; and comprehension, 5, 119, 181; and lexical input processing, 69–70; and pedagogical applications, 79, 120–121; and proficiency, 67; and vocabulary knowledge, 199; and weak learners, 77; building, 113; cultural, 71; defined, 69–74, 119; executive control processes, 198; incorrect knowledge hinders comprehension, 120; reader's use of, 112, 181; strengthening, 115; weak or none, 74, 119, 202
- Bottom-up approach, 4–5, 112, 187
- Brown Corpus, 152–153, 164, 166, 168, 172
- Communicative approach, 158, 173–177, 186, 190
- Comprehension: and acquisition, 173–191; and context, 156, 159; and lexical growth, 153; and reading ability, 193; framework for, 194–199; growth, 169; think about meaning, 10, 118, 125–128; word families and, 158; word knowledge, 155
- Computers and reading, 144; and reading ability, 144; contexts, 162–168; corpus linguistics, 148–149; learning new words, 162; Range, 153; selecting texts with, 160; vocabulary/lexical knowledge, 145
- Decoding, 10, 76–77, 106–108, 115–116, 134
- Dual process approach, 177–188
- Effective instruction, 102–116
- Evaluate progress, 139–142; peer assessment, 140; self-assessment, 140; teacher assessment, 140; qualitative assessment, 141; quantitative assessment, 141
- Extensive reading: critical curricular support, 200, 202; learning vocabulary through, 49–50; need for more research, 203; promoting, 118; vocabulary processing and, 9, 40–64, 192; word recognition and, 36–37, 124
- Eye movement, 5, 107, 113–114
- Fluency, 128–132; class-paced reading, 131; rate buildup reading, 131; repeated reading, 131; self-paced reading, 131–132; shadow reading, 130
- Focus-on-form, 4, 9, 47–49
- General Service List, 123, 172
- Glosses, 92–93, 96, 98

- Input, and practice, 158; authentic, 186; comprehensible, 4, 9, 43, 45, 49, 63, 67, 178, 185, 187, 197, 200, 204; lexical, 74–78; modified, 9, 46–47, 83–84, 94–95, 181–183, 185; processing, 12, 65–66, 70, 86, 179–180, 184; simplified, 87–89; sources of, 2–3; textual, 89–92; unenhanced or unmodified, 98; useful, 176–177
- Input Hypothesis ($i + 1$), 3, 179, 181
- Lexical access speed, 54–55
- Literacy development, 3, 7, 40
- Matthew effect (rich get richer), 9, 81
- Meaning-based instruction, 2, 4, 35, 179–180, 204
- Miscue analysis, 5, 114
- Pedagogical strategies for teaching reading: guided reading, 114; input enhancement, 188; narrow reading, 189; processing instruction, 189; read-alouds, 114; shared reading, 114
- Primary language literacy instruction, 103–105, 115
- Questioning the Author, 127–128, 138
- Range, 153, 172
- Reading strategies: confirming, 5, 113; disconfirming, 113; efficient, 74; hypothesis testing, 98; inferring, 5; integrating, 5; predicting, 5; psychological, 104, 113–114; sampling, 5; selectively attending to new words, 73; summarizing, 113; superficial, 73; vocabulary learning, 73
- Schemata (see background/prior knowledge)
- Second language (L2) reading proficiency, 74–76
- Skills approach, 1, 7, 10
- Skills transfer, 104, 115
- Socio-psycholinguistic view of reading, 10, 103, 105, 109, 112–116
- Standardized tests: Adult Basic Learning Examination (ABLE), 75, 77; CanTEST, 75; TOEFL, 75
- Strategies: applying appropriately, 198; assessment, 140; comprehension, 74–75, 80, 179–180; L1 versus L2 differences, 178; metacognitive, 81, 138, 198; orchestration of, 132, 174; processing, 72–73; skills versus, 133–136; strategic instruction, 11, 201; training, 136–139; verify reading strategies, 10, 71, 118, 132–133
- Strategy surveys: Language Strategy Use Survey, 136; Metacognitive Awareness of Reading Strategies Inventory (MARS), 135; Survey Of Reading Strategies (SORS), 135; Young Learners' Language Strategy Use Survey, 136
- Structural approach, 174–176, 190
- Think-aloud protocols, 91, 95–97, 138
- Top-down approach, 4, 112, 158, 173, 187
- Topic familiarity, 70–72, 74, 78, 201
- Transfer, 7–8, 11–13, 20, 104, 115, 131, 137, 139, 163, 167, 169, 176
- VocabProfile, 11, 45, 52, 161–162, 171, 173
- Vocabulary: cultivate, 119, 123–126; definitional vocabulary knowledge, 40–64; glosses, 92–93, 96, 98; incidental, 9, 46, 53, 61, 66, 68, 70, 76–77, 94; intentional, 53, 66; processing, 65–82; recognition speed, 40–64, 200; sight, 9, 40, 42–43, 65, 68, 76–79, 107–108; word families, 42, 45, 52, 149–152, 155–157
- Vocabulary Levels Test, 45, 148
- Whole language, 1, 4–7, 12
- Word recognition speed, 17–24
- Word recognition view of reading, 107, 115
