

Subject Index

- accent, 56, 57, 64–65, 68–70, 76
annotations, 90
anxiety, 9, 74, 76, 138, 162
assessment, 9–10, 51, 56, 69–70, 165 attention, 54, 55, 57, 93, 154, 162 authenticity, 132–137, 140–145 authentic materials: defined, 135–136; textbooks compared to, 136–137; technology and, 139–140, 145, 148; used in classrooms, 74, 85, 133, 135; used in research studies, 22, 27, 66, 72, 90; why effective, 66, 134, 138–139
- back channel cues, 4, 109, 124
background knowledge. See schemata bottom-up processing, vii, 19, 20, 29, 30–34, 36, 37–47
- captions, 8, 12, 85, 87–91 cognates, 3, 4, 7
cognitive models, 18–20, 112–115
collocations, 38
comprehension process: bottom-up processing and, 37–40; defined, 6, 9–10, 18–20; improving, 68; in listening vs. reading, 7–11, 21; interaction and, 112–115; learners' perceived problems with, 54–57; pre-listening activities and, 24–27, 29–34; speech rate and, 63–66; text structure and, 27–28; vocabulary and, 57–63
comprehension questions, 2, 8, 36, 50, 56 content schemata, 19, 20, 27, 28 content words, 41–42, 46
context, 5, 10, 24, 37, 38, 55, 154, 157, 159
co-text, 10, 37, 75
corpora, 58–60, 139, 148
- decoding, 10, 11, 37, 38, 47
details: as aspect of linguistic comprehension, 72; compared to main ideas, 39, 62, 153; in classroom activities, 77, 78, 80, 82, 83; in reading vs. listening, 7–11, 13, 61; lecture listening and, 97, 98; repetition and, 27 dialogues, 13, 15–16, 75, 84 dictations: as classroom activities, 49, 50, 83, 101–103, 157; in research studies, 46, 85, 91–96
dictogloss, 92, 93, 94, 95, 103–104 discourse markers, 96–99, 161

- elaboration, 23, 67–68, 112, 154 extensive listening, 105, 106, 157 extended listening, 106
- foreigner talk, 63
formal schemata. See text schemata function words, 41–42, 46
- gestures, 80, 86
global questions. See main idea questions
- grammar: as aspect of linguistic knowledge, 8, 10; as problem in listening comprehension, 55, 57; authentic materials and, 138; dictation and, 92, 94, 95, 96; in classroom activities, 15, 163; pre-teaching, 33–34, 37; role in comprehension, 5, 61, 80, 161
- hesitation, 4, 56, 57, 66, 157
- individual differences, 20, 61, 69, 74
- inference: as subskill, 9, 80, 121; compared to global questions, 8; in classroom activities, 77, 78, 82, 161; strategy use, 123, 154, 155, 158
- interaction: in cognitive approaches, 112–115, 119; in sociocultural approaches, 115–119; societal relationships and, 120–122; speaking tasks and, 126–127; strategy use, 123–125, 156
- interactional listening. See interactive listening interactive listening, 3, 71, 123–125 intonation: as microskill, 80; in classroom activities, 14–15, 48; role in comprehension, 38, 65; role in intelligibility, 70; role in lecture listening, 100; strategy use, 154, 161; learner perceptions of listening difficulty, 54–57
- key word, 41, 54, 154, 155
- lecture listening, 55, 85, 96–100 linguistic knowledge, 8, 10, 22, 23, 72 listening while reading, 8, 11–12, 13–14, 157
literal questions. See detail questions
- main ideas: as aspect of linguistic comprehension, 72; as problem, 57; compared to details, 7, 8, 9, 22, 39; forming, 56; in classroom activities, 77, 80, 81, 83; in lectures, 97, 98; in reading vs. listening, 11, 13, 61 modified input, 23, 112, 113, 114 mondegreen, 36
motivation: as factor in successful learning, 54, 56, 57, 76; in authentic materials, 133; individual differences, 74; in ESL/EFL, 118; in listening and reading, 9; multimedia and, 87; strategy use, 155, 156, 162

- movies, 8, 86, 87, 89, 148
- multimedia, 85, 86–91, 139–140, 145–148
- narrow listening, 105, 157
- negotiation of meaning, 110, 111, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 122
- non-reciprocal listening, 3, 109, 122
- pair work: dictogloss and, 93–94; effectiveness of, 126; negotiation and, 107–108, 110, 117–119; transcripts and, 14–16; vs. teacher-fronted activities, 114–115
- parsing, 37–38
- pausing, 23, 38, 42, 56, 57, 66, 68, 70, 75, 137
- phonology, 10, 14, 15, 40, 45, 46, 47, 60, 66, 80
- phonotactics, 43–44
- pragmatic comprehension, 71–73
- prior knowledge. See schemata
- processing Instruction, 94, 95
- proficiency: automaticity and, 20; bottom-up processing and, 39; captions and, 88, 91; comprehension and, 23, 76; in listening and reading, 6–7, 9, 12; in pre-listening activities, 28, 29; intelligibility and, 65, 69; repetition and, 26, 27; pragmatic comprehension, 71–73; strategy use, 123–125, 156, 158; tasks and, 148–149; visuals and, 24; word recognition and, 41–43, 55
- pronunciation, 14, 37, 40, 45, 47–48, 62, 68
- purpose for listening, 76–79, 163
- reading, 3–16, 21, 54, 61, 62
- recall, 7, 9, 22, 23, 25, 29
- reception strategies, 123–125, 131
- reciprocal listening, 3, 109, 122, 123–125
- reductions (of sounds), 4, 45, 46, 49
- redundancy, 38, 75, 154; modified input and, 67, 113; speech rate and, 65–66
- repetition: effectiveness of, 21, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 64, 68; in classroom activities, 13–14, 83, 127, 128, 137; in interaction, 122, 124, 125
- schemata: as compensatory, 38–39, 56; defined, 18–20; in reading vs. listening, 8, 10; pre-listening activities, 78, 80, 91, 92; role in listening comprehension, 21–30, 62, 75; strategy use, 153–155, 158–159, 161, 163
- simplification, 67–68, 112
- sociocultural approaches, 111–112, 115–120
- social factors, 22, 120–122
- speaking tasks, vii, 126–131
- specific information questions. See detail questions
- speech, compared to writing, 4, 5, 6, 10, 41

- speech rate, 54, 55, 56, 57, 63–66, 68, 70, 75
- speech stream: breaking up, 37–39, 48–49; perceived problems, 54–57; speech rate and, 63; strategy use, 154; word recognition and, 43–44, 46
- stories, 11, 104–105
- strategies, vii, 7, 36, 45, 123–125, 150–164
- subtitles. See captions
- teaching vs. testing, 36, 50–51
- television, 8, 86, 87, 90, 139, 148, 153
- textbooks, 2, 31, 47–48, 50, 99–100, 136–137
- text schemata, 19, 20, 27, 28
- top-down processing, 19, 20, 29, 32, 38, 157
- transcripts: dictations and, 49, 95, 96; in classroom, 8, 13–15, 16; use in research studies, 59, 60, 89, 116, 122; video, 24, 25, 86–91, 148, 153, 154, 156
- visual support, 24, 25, 27, 28, 30, 31, 75, 88, 90, 91, 153
- vocabulary: as microskill, 80; authentic materials and, 138; captions and, 90; dictation and, 93–94; in bottom-up processing, 37, 41, 42; in listening vs. reading, 7, 8, 11, 12; in pre-listening activities, 25, 26, 28, 29–33, 50; learner problems with, 54, 55; role in comprehension, 57–63
- websites, 145–146
- word recognition, 41–47, 55
- working memory, 19, 20–21, 92, 160
- writing. See speech compared to writing