

Contents

Introduction	1
Chapter 1: Six Reasons to Know about Genre and Graduate-Level Research Writing	4
Graduate-Level Research Writing: Definitions and Importance	4
Six Reasons to Know about Genre and Graduate-Level Research Writing	6
Questions for Reflection and Discussion	29
Chapter 2: Rhetorical Consciousness-Raising, Genre Awareness, and Awareness of Genres	31
Defining and Applying Rhetorical Consciousness-Raising	32
Raising Rhetorical Consciousness through Genre Analysis	37
An Expanded Understanding of Rhetorical Consciousness-Raising: Raising Genre Awareness and the Awareness of Genres	44
Questions for Reflection and Discussion	48
Chapter 3: Materials That Guide Genre-Focused Learning of Research Writing	50
Genre-Focused Textbooks for Teaching and Learning Graduate-Level Research Writing	50
“In-House” Topic-, Course-, or Program-Specific Genre-Focused Materials	73
Learner-Contributed Reference Collections as Pedagogical Materials	76
Questions for Reflection and Discussion	86

Chapter 4: The Guided Inductive and Discovery-Based Analysis and Study of Genre	88
In-Class Explicit Analysis of Genre Samples	88
Students' Discovery-Based Analysis of Genre Samples	113
Questions for Reflection and Discussion	127
Chapter 5: Writing Tasks and Evaluating Students' Discipline-Specific Writing	129
The Four Dimensions of Writing Tasks in the Graduate-Level Research Writing Classroom	129
Incorporating the Four Dimensions into One Writing Task: An Example	132
How Do the Four Dimensions Assist in Understanding and Evaluating Students' Discipline-Specific Writing?	140
Rubrics for Evaluating Discipline-Specific Writing	150
Questions for Reflection and Discussion	153
Chapter 6: Building and Updating the Knowledge Base for Effective Research Writing Instruction	154
Become Familiar with L2 and EAP Instructional Approaches and Issues	154
Experiment with the Pedagogical Initiatives Targeting L1 Graduate-Level Research Writers	158
Understand Students' Learning or Practices of Research Writing in Non-Classroom Settings	166
Learn about the Discipline-Specific Nature of Research Writing	173
Conduct Action Research of the Research Writing Classroom	186
Questions for Reflection and Discussion	192
Appendixes	195
References	200
Index	218