Contents

Introduction ........................................................................................................................................... 1

Part 1: Conceptualizing Argumentative Writing Instruction and Research

2. Online Resources for L2 Argumentative Writing in Secondary Schools: A View from the Field by Amanda Kibler, Christine Hardigree, and Fares Karam .................................................................................. 31
3. Using the 3x3 Toolkit to Support Argumentative Writing across Disciplines by Thomas D. Mitchell and Silvia Pessoa ................... 48
4. Source-Based Argumentative Writing Assessment by Lia Plakans and Renka Ohta .................................................................. 64
5. An Analysis of the Chinese Way of Arguing: Creating a Hybrid Model to Teach Argument as an Inquiry Process by Weier Ye and Lan Wang-Hiles ................................................................. 82
6. Expertise and the Teaching of Argumentative Writing by Alan Hirvela .................................................................................... 99
7. A Multilingual Orientation to Preparing Teaching Assistants to Teach Argumentation in First-Year Writing by Parva Panahi ...... 115

Part 2: Applications and Research in the Classroom

8. The New Bricolage: Assembling and Remixing Voice and Images in a Multimodal Argumentative Text by Joel Bloch ............... 135
9. Remediating L2 Students’ Argumentation in an ESL Composition Class: From Print to Digital Argumentation by Nugrahenny Zacharias ....................................................................................... 152
10. Blending Learning to Argue and Arguing to Learn in EFL Writing Instruction: A Classroom Inquiry by Min Zou, Xiaohui Li, and Icy Lee ...................................................................................... 169
11. An Action Research Study Aimed at Improving Chinese High School Students’ Argumentation in EFL Writing by Qiling Wu and Zehang Chen ........................................................................ 187
12. The Argumentative Essay from Multiple Sources: Genre-Based Instruction to Foster Autonomy in EFL Academic Literacy
   by Natalia Dalla Costa ................................................................. 204

13. Argumentative Writing at the Tertiary Level: Students’ and Teachers’ Perceptions of a Hybrid Approach by Lucas Kohnke and Frankie Har .................................................. 223

14. Analysis of Pre-service Teachers’ Reflective Journals: Learning-to-argue through Writing about Writing by Lisya Seloni and Nur Yiğitoğlu Aptoula ................................. 240

Contributors .................................................................................. 255
Author Index .................................................................................. 261
Subject Index .................................................................................. 267