

Contents

INTRODUCTION	1
I. INITIAL HOOKS
CHAPTER 1. Performing Independence: Male Clerks, Bookkeepers, and Stenographers from 1820 to 1870	17
CHAPTER 2. Treasury Girls and the Masses: From Degraded Women Workers to Employees	44
II. FINAL HOOKS
CHAPTER 3. Stepping-Stones and Short Ladders: Men's Faltering Independence	71
CHAPTER 4. The Male Stenographers' Solution: The Language of Professionalism	95
CHAPTER 5. Typewriter Girls and Lady Stenographers: The Challenges of Respectability	129
CHAPTER 6. "My Fondest Hopes Will Have Been Realized": Independence, Ambition, and the New Woman	160
CHAPTER 7. Performances of Professionalism	190
EPILOGUE	219
NOTES	233
APPENDIX	301
Abbreviations of Shorthand Journals	301
Manuscript Collections	301
Description and Linking of Sources	302
Occupational Categories	304
Tables	305
INDEX	317