

Contents

CHAPTER 1.	To Make Poetry out of the Unpoetical: Modern American Poetry and the Labor Problem	1
CHAPTER 2.	“Thinking / Of the Freezing Poor”: The Suburban Counterpastoral in William Carlos Williams’s Early Poetry	26
CHAPTER 3.	Aware and Awareless: T. S. Eliot’s Labor Problems	61
CHAPTER 4.	“Starve, freeze”: Edna St. Vincent Millay, Conspicuous Privation, and the Political Economy of Bohemia	105
CHAPTER 5.	“Yes, sir!”: Langston Hughes, Claude McKay, and the Poetics of Serving	138
CHAPTER 6.	A Lost Art of Work: The Fate of the Craft Ideal in Carl Sandburg’s Chicago Poems	177
CONCLUSION:	Distinctions with and without a Difference	212
	Notes	221
	Works Cited	247
	Index	261