

Contents

Introduction	1
1 The Nature of Early Chamber Music	5
2 The Crystallization of Genres during the Golden Age of Chamber Music	24
3 Classical Chamber Music with Wind Instruments	55
4 The Chamber Music of Beethoven	62
5 The Emergence of the Wind Quintet	83
6 Schubert and Musical Aesthetics of the Early Romantic Era	90
7 Prince Louis Ferdinand and Louis Spohr	102
8 Champions of Tradition: Mendelssohn, Schumann, and Brahms	114
9 Nationalism in French Chamber Music of the Late Romantic Era: Franck, Debussy, Saint-Saëns, Fauré, and Ravel	171
10 National Schools from the Time of Smetana to the Mid-Twentieth Century	189
11 Nationalism and Tradition: Schoenberg and the Austro-German Avant-Garde	209

- 12 The Continuation of Tonality in the Twentieth Century 224
- 13 Strictly Confidential: The Chamber Music of Dmitri Shostakovich 245
- 14 Two Fugitives from the Soviet Bloc:
György Ligeti and Karel Husa 263
- 15 Benchmarks: Chamber Music Masterpieces
since circa 1920 274
- Table of Chamber Pieces According to Ensemble Size* 297
- Notes* 315
- Index* 345