
Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments vii

1. Introduction:
Multinational Corporations and Governments 1
2. Democracy and the Political Risk of Expropriation for International Business 27
3. Institutional Determinants of Foreign Direct Investment in the Developing World 53
4. Partisan Governments and the Distributive Effects of Foreign Direct Investment 83
5. Political Institutions and the Effectiveness of Multinational Lobbying 115
6. Conclusion 147

Notes 157

References 173

Index 201