

Contents

INTRODUCTION

“Music is my life, and I live to play”
Louis Armstrong’s Jazz Autobiographics / 1

CHAPTER 1

“I have always been a great observer”
New Orleans Musicking / 30

CHAPTER 2

“I done forgot the words”
Versioning Autobiography / 66

CHAPTER 3

“Diddat Come Outa Mee?”
Writing Scat and Typing Swing / 108

CHAPTER 4

“A happy go lucky sort of type of fellow”
The Productive Ambiguities of Minstrel Sounding / 145

CHAPTER 5

“He didn’t need black face—to be funny”
The Double Resonance of Postcolonial Performance / 183

CHAPTER 6

“My mission is music”

Armstrong’s Cultural Politics / 227

CONCLUSION

“What do you know about that?”

Final Thoughts on “Laughin’ Louie” / 258

NOTES / 273

SUGGESTED LISTENING / 325

SUGGESTED FURTHER READING / 327

INDEX / 335