

Contents

Introduction	1
Youngju Ryu
The Race to Appropriate “Koreanness”: National Restoration, Internal Development, and Traces of Popular Culture	21
Won Kim
[De]Popularizing a Confucian Master: Yusin and the Birth of T’oegye Studies	59
Hwisang Cho
Kyebaram: The Culture of Money and Investment in South Korea during the 1970s	89
Eunhee Park
“My” Sweet Home in the Next Decade: The Popular Imagination of Private Homeownership during the Yusin Period	119
Han Sang Kim
Peripheral Visions of Yusin: Techniscope Action Cinema and the Anxiety of the State	141
Irhe Sohn
Dissident Dreams: Science Fictional Imaginations in 1970s South Korean Literature and Film	165
Sunyoung Park
Alluvium of Dreams: The 1969 Master Plan and the Development of Yōūido	193
Se-Mi Oh

“Oh Jesus, Now Here with Us”: Literary Christology in 1970s and 1980s South Korea Serk-Bae Suh	221
Why Performance in Authoritarian Korea? Joan Kee	245
Conclusion: From Yusin Redux to Yuchè it’al Youngju Ryu	279
Contributors	293
Index	295