

Contents

Introduction: Antiquarianism and Intellectual Life in Europe and China Peter N. Miller and François Louis	1
PART 1 Antiquarianism and the Study of the Past
ONE Writing Antiquarianism: Prolegomenon to a History Peter N. Miller	27
TWO The Many Dimensions of the Antiquary's Practice Alain Schnapp	58
THREE Far and Away? Japan, China, and Egypt, and the Ruins of Ancient Rome in Justus Lipsius's Intellectual Journey Jan Papy	81
FOUR Comparing Antiquarianisms: A View from Europe Peter N. Miller	103
PART 2 Authenticity and Antiquities
FIVE The Credulity Problem Christopher S. Wood	149
SIX Artifacts of Authentication: People Making Texts Making Things in Ming-Qing China Bruce Rusk	180

PART 3 The Discovery of the World

SEVEN	Styles of Medical Antiquarianism Nancy G. Siraisi	207
EIGHT	Therapy and Antiquity in Late Imperial China Nathan Sivin	222
NINE	Wang Shizhen and Li Shizhen: Archaism and Early Scientific Thought in Sixteenth-Century China Kenneth J. Hammond	234
TEN	The Botany of Cheng Yaotian (1725–1814): Multiple Perspectives on Plants Georges Métaillé	250

PART 4 Antiquarianism and Ethnography

ELEVEN	The Study of Islam in Early Modern Europe: Obstacles and Missed Opportunities Noel Malcolm	265
TWELVE	Thinking About “Non-Chinese” in Ming China Leo K. Shin	289

PART 5 Antiquarianism and a “History of Religion”

THIRTEEN	From Antiquarianism to Philosophical History: India, China, and the World History of Religion in European Thought (1600–1770) Joan-Pau Rubiés	313
FOURTEEN	Whose Antiquarianism? Europe versus China in the 1701 Conflict between Bishop Maigrot and Qiu Sheng D. E. Mungello	368
FIFTEEN	From Antiquarian Imagination to the Reconstruction of Institutions: Antonius van Dale on Religion Martin Mulso	381
	List of Contributors	413
	Index	415