

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	I
JAY HOWARD GELLER AND LESLIE MORRIS
Part 1: To Germany, from Germany: The Promise of an Unpromised Land?
1. Love, Money, and Career in the Life of Rosa Luxemburg DEBORAH HERTZ	23
2. The “Triple Immersion”: A Singular Moment in Modern Jewish Intellectual History? ALAN T. LEVENSON	46
3. Yiddish Writers/German Models in the Early Twentieth Century JEFFREY A. GROSSMAN	66
4. The Symphony of a Great Heimat: Zionism as a Cure for Weimar Crisis in Lerski’s Avodah OFER ASHKENAZI	91
Part 2: Germany, the Portable Homeland
5. “I Have Been a Stranger in a Foreign Land”: The Scholem Brothers and German-Jewish Émigré Identity JAY HOWARD GELLER	125
6. Lost in the Transnational: Photographic Initiatives of Walter and Helmut Gernsheim in Britain MICHAEL BERKOWITZ	144

7. Transnational Jewish Comedy: Sex and Politics in the Films of Ernst Lubitsch—From Berlin to Hollywood 169
RICHARD W. MCCORMICK
8. America Abandoned: German-Jewish Visions of American Poverty in Serialized Novels by
Joseph Roth, Sholem Asch, and Michael Gold 197
KERRY WALLACH
9. “Irgendwo auf der Welt”: The Emigration of Jews
from Nazi Germany as a Transnational Experience 220
JOACHIM SCHLÖR
10. Transnational Jewish Refugee Stories: Displacement,
Loss, and (Non)Restitution 239
ATINA GROSSMANN

Part 3: A Masterable Past? German-Jewish Transnationalism in a Post-Holocaust Era

- I 1. “Normalization and Its Discontents”:
The Transnational Legacy of the Holocaust
in Contemporary Germany 261
KAREN REMMLER
- I 2. Between Memory and Normalcy:
Synagogue Architecture in Postwar Germany 277
GAVRIEL D. ROSENFELD
- I 3. Klezmer in the New Germany: History, Identity, and Memory 302
RAYSH WEISS
- I 4. (Trans)National Spaces: Jewish Sites in Contemporary Germany 321
MICHAEL MENG
- Contributors* 341
- Index* 345