

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
1. Introduction: The “Problem” of Emerging Powers	1
2. Explaining Change in the International System: A Role-Theoretic Approach to Emerging Powers	19
3. A Mixed-Methods Approach to Observing Identity and Behavior	39
4. Brazil: A Regional Leader in Need of Followers	61
5. Russia: A Once and Future Great Power?	81
6. India: From Nonalignment to Nuclear Power	99
7. China: Responsible Stakeholder or Revisionist Great Power?	117
8. South Africa: Punching above Its Weight as a Middle Power	135
9. Conclusion: Toward a Better Understanding of Emerging Powers	159
Notes	175
References	183
Index	205