

Contents

	INTRODUCTION
I	All Eyes to the Street: Surveillance, Information Technologies, and the Space of Brecht's "Street Scene"
	GOD'S EYES: CHAPTER 1
31	Of Sheep, Shepherds, and Oversight: Defrocking the Cultures of Surveillance
	PRIVATE EYES: CHAPTER 2
75	Surveillance Operatives: Activists, Undercover Agents, and the "New Theater"
	BLIND EYES: CHAPTER 3
115	This Private Island: The Modern Ban-opticon from Camp X-Ray to Private Prisons
	ELECTRONIC EYES: CHAPTER 4
161	Outperforming Activism: Surveillance Technologies beyond the Surveillance Camera Players
	DOWNCAST EYES: CHAPTER 5
189	Data Doubles, Pepper's Ghost, and Zombie Categories: The Specters of Performance in the Bit Parts of Surveillance
	AN EYE FOR AN EYE: CHAPTER 6
217	Envisioning Performance Postdemocracy: Creative Activism, (a Little Bit of) Damage, and Surveillance's Inevitable Products
265	Notes
291	Index